Provision of Consultancy
Services to Study
Profile of Living Conditions and
Design and Develop
and a Poverty
Indicator Framework
Re-MECОВI Project

APPPLICATIONS are invited from suitably qualified individuals to provide consultancy services to the OECS Secretariat to study profile of living conditions and design and develop a poverty indicator framework for training public officers in poverty measurements and social policy analysis. This consultancy forms part of a wider OECS MECОВI Project and would be undertaken in three phases 1 (preparatory), phase 2 (execution) and phase 3 (completion). The main activities of the consultancy include:

Phase 1 – Preparatory

Collect baseline data on the profile of living conditions and indicators of poverty from the various sources throughout the participating states

Critically appraise or analyse data to obtain indicators of poverty and indicate current profile of living conditions

Based on the findings highlight those factors/circumstances that contribute to and maintain current living conditions. In-addition, highlight the social intervention strategies currently used to mitigate those factors and circumstances that contribute to the current living conditions

Make recommendations as to how these factors/circumstances can be mitigated or alleviated by the intervention of Governments and other non-governmental organizations with interest in living conditions

Work closely with at least one member of staff from each statistical office to obtain the required support and ensure transmission of some minimum level of skill in the profiling living conditions and define poverty indicators

Develop a simple quality control process to maintain the quality of work during the entire process and beyond completion

Phase 2 – Execution

Provide a list of current poverty indicators and comment on their effectiveness in mapping living conditions.

Design and develop a framework of poverty indicators for the development of poverty indicators with local, regional and international application

Document the study of living conditions in participating states paying close attention to the methodologies employed and the impact of the findings in developing social policies and programmes

Provide localized maps of living conditions for the respective territories

List the short-comings or limitations that exist in the collection of data that is important in profiling living conditions and to develop social intervention programmes and policies

Document the design and development of social policies and programmes to be used in the mitigation of living conditions

Map the incidence of social programmes to living conditions

State the impact of these programmes on living conditions

Recommend ways in which social policies and programmes can be developed to better enhance living conditions in the respective territories

Compile and present draft of study to OECS and member countries for review and comments

Phase 3 – Completion

Integrating the feedbacks received, finalise study and submit three copies (electronic and hard) to the OECS

From the work undertaken or previous experience provide any advice or recommendation deem necessary to enhance the capability of the various statistical offices to conduct such study in the future

Document and present a report on the work process undertaken

Consultancy must be completed no later than 10 weeks from the day of the award of contract

Qualification:

The potential consultant must possess at-least a first degree in social work, sociology, demography and statistics or other relevant qualifications. In-addition the consultant must have extensive experience in poverty and social policy analysis.

Application Procedures:

Application to undertake the above consultancy must include the following:

Proposal with costing to carrying out consultancy

Academic qualifications and practical experience of the applicant

At least two references must be submitted.

These should reach:

The Human Resource Officer,
OECS Secretariat

P O Box 179
The Morne,
Castries, St. Lucia.

No later than 29th October 2004

Organisation of Eastern Caribbean States
Provision of Consultancy
Services to Review
the Poverty
Monitoring and Statistical Capacity of the Social Policy Unit

APPPLICATIONS are invited from suitably qualified individuals to provide consultancy services to the OECS Secretariat to review the poverty monitoring and statistical capacity of the social policy unit.

Background:

The OECS Secretariat through its Social Policy Unit is mandated to assist with the Social Development of OECS Member States (MS). The strategic objective of the Social Policy Unit is to provide appropriate research and statistical support that will guide social policy formulation within the OECS and will contribute towards the development of an integrated approach for the social development agenda of the OECS. This is to be done through the provision of social data and technical support to MS in:

Undertaking Social Development Programme Assessments

Developing Poverty Reduction Strategy Programmes

Formulating Social Policies

Publishing OECS Human Development Report

Strengthen capacity of statistical offices to undertake Surveys of Living Conditions (SLCs)

Establishing Social Development Indicators

It is within this mandate that the OECS Secretariat is offering a short-term consultancy for the review of the Poverty

Monitoring and Statistical Capacity of the Social Policy Unit.

Task:

Undertake an in-depth assessment of the capacity of national social policy agencies and of Social Policy Unit's (SPU) Poverty Monitoring and Statistical Capacity. The main aim of the exercise is to enhance and orient the Unit's ability to carry out sub-regional social and human development assessments given the challenges at the national level. Since the Unit also has a responsibility to provide appropriate data/statistical information relative to the needs of the Member States, the assessment must clearly indicate the necessary skills set and technical resources needed to enhance any deficit in capacity by the SPU.

In that regard, the consultant shall:

Conduct an audit of the Poverty monitoring and Statistical capacity of the Social Policy Unit (SPU). This is being done with the knowledge that the MECOVI Project will assess the capacities of statistical offices in the member states.

Review the existing capacity of the SPU with the view of the unit as a supporting mechanism and clearing house for data for statistical offices.

Review the capacity at the national level to use information provided by the SPU or at the national level for decision-making and or to be integrated into the development planning process.

Assess the awareness and use of the OECS Human Development Report, and how it is being used to assist in reporting on the MDGs, and in the overall decision-making process on social development issues.

Based on the feedback obtained make recommendations on a system and framework needed including the type of system, methodologies, strategies and resource requirements that would allow the SPU to support national agencies to improve the collation and use of data on the state of human development.

Prepare a report that will:

Outline the current poverty monitoring and statistical capacity of the SPU including the weaknesses and strengths of the current capacity;

Identify how the MDGR/HDR formulation process can be improved and more useful for entities at the national level in the policy formulation process;

Identify critical weaknesses and challenges at the national level in integrating social information into the development planning process; and

Examine how the outputs from the MECOVI Project feed into the work of the SPU, and take on-board statistical capacity of member states.

Duration:

The required consultancy is to be fully completed in two months and is broken down in the following time frame:

One week at the OECS Secretariat to undertake audit of the SPU capacity to do Poverty monitoring and provide Statistical data/information;

Two weeks appraise capacity, identify weaknesses and strengthens at the national level and one day to discussion findings with SPU;

Three weeks for the preparation and presentation of Preliminary Document (presentation at the end of week three);

Two weeks for the finalizing and submission of the final report including review and comment from national counterparts, OECS and UNDP.

Qualifications:

The potential consultant must possess at-least a first degree in the social sciences in the field of: Social Work, Sociology, Statistics and Economics or any other relevant qualifications. In addition, the consultant must have extensive experience in poverty monitoring and in the statistical analysis of data from Living Standard Measurement Surveys (LSMS) or Poverty Assessments, other surveys and other data collected.

Application Procedures:

Application to undertake the above consultancy must include the following:

Academic qualifications and practical experience of the applicant

At least two references must be submitted.

Attach Proposal for Undertaking the Consultancy with costs.

Also he/she will be responsible for ensuring that public complaints are appropriately responded to on a timely basis, and for assisting with the Authority's public education and awareness programmes.

Duties and Responsibilities:

Work in close collaboration with the Operations Manager to ensure the efficient regulation, monitoring and enforcement of waste management services. Tasks will include the preparation of regular reports for submission to the Operations Manager, including, but not limited to, contractor performance, public complaints, accidents and incidents.

Monitor the performance of contractors involved in waste collection services to ensure they conform to contract specifications including operational plans scheduling, staffing and health and safety provisions.

Ensure that members of the public and the commercial, industrial and institutional sectors comply with appropriate waste storage and waste segregation requirements.

Monitor the operations at the existing disposal sites, and at new landfill sites to be constructed, to ensure they conform to contract specifications.

Monitor waste recycling facilities, including composting initiatives, at the disposal sites and within participating communities.

Assist with public education programmes related to solid waste management, as required.

Respond to public complaints.

Perform other related duties assigned by the Operations Manager or the General Manager.

Conditions:

The successful applicant will be required to possess a valid drivers license and to own, maintain and operate a motor vehicle to enable effective discharge of duties, in respect of which an allowance will be paid.

Salary:

Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience. The successful applicant will be offered an initial three year contract with the options for renewal upon successful completion of his/ her tenure.

Applications:

Written applications along with certified detailed particulars of qualifications, training and experience together with two (2) references should be received by Thursday, November 18, 2004.
