Press Releases

PRF Projects puts New Face on Crown Lands Community

ONE of the largest footpath and drains projects of the Poverty Reduction Fund is ongoing in the Crown Lands- Marc community. The project which started late last year is being funded by the Special Framework for Assistance Fund. Minister for Social Transformation and Member of Parliament for Castries South East Honourable Menissa Rambally toured the area on Tuesday, January 27, 2004, to assess the progress of the ongoing works. She noted her satisfaction as well as that of the residents.

“There are some seventy one households in Morne Rouge and in the last couple of months the residents of this community made a request through the Poverty Reduction Fund for a project of this nature.” Over one hundred residents will receive employment on a rotational basis, throughout this project.

“The objectives are threefold: to provide much needed infrastructure to the community; to provide much needed employment for a number of persons in the area, who were previously employed in the agricultural sector particularly on the banana fields and to provide particularly young persons with opportunities for skills training and capacity building.”

Youth at Risk Committee Take Stock of Past Year

ONE day after handing in their 2003 report at the Annual General Meeting of the National Community Foundation NCF, members of the Youth at Risk Committee on Tuesday January 27th 2004 attended a workshop to determine the way forward.

Chairman of the Youth at Risk Committee and NCF board member Webster Joseph says the committee's decision to review its mandate and function, is a means of improving upon the past year.

“Over the past year we've had five projects, four of which were community based; we had groups from Dennery, Anse La Raye, and Marchand, and they made some project proposals which we thought benefited young persons during the summer vacation. They were quite good but we would just like to encourage more of those projects and maybe initiate projects which have a long lasting effect on members of the community.”

Clubs who are interested in submitting proposals are informed that sports, personal and business proposals will not be accepted. The Youth At risk Committee requires that all groups who present proposals and gain acceptance and funding follow up with a report on the effectiveness and success of projects.

The Trade and Services Exhibition Committee Applauded

THE 25th Independence Anniversary activity the Trade and Services Exhibition set for the Vieux-Fort Free Zone has received the approval of Prime Minister Honourable Dr Kenny Anthony.

On a tour of the site Wednesday twenty-eighth January 2004, Dr Anthony said he was pleased with the level of organisation. He said the Saint Lucia Chamber of Commerce - organisers of the event - had done well in the arrangements for security, manpower deployment and infrastructural enhancement of the area to host the exhibition.

The Trade and Services Exhibition, will see a display of goods produced in Saint Lucia. The Chamber is hoping the event will have the effect of increasing awareness of locally produced goods. It is hoped that the heightened awareness will translate into increased consumption of goods manufactured in Saint Lucia.

On Monday second February 2004, booths will be officially handed over to the businesses participating in the exhibition. The participants are expecting that the event will provide an opportunity to interface with the many overseas buyers who are expected to visit the exhibition.

The Trade and Services Exhibition takes place over five days beginning on Wednesday eleventh February to Sunday the fifteenth. The first two days will be opened to buyers and sellers. The remaining three days - from Friday to Sunday - the public is being encouraged to visit.

The organisers have an added bonus with a packed entertainment package to feature some well known local bands as well as calypsonians to provide entertainment for the duration of the event.
