Government Welcomes Bank of St. Lucia International Ltd

Compliance Manager of BOSLI, Jodi Boodhoo says central to the bank's mission of providing the best international private banking services is the preservation of the integrity of the bank and St. Lucia as a whole. St. Lucia he says, can realize several gains as long as it maintains its reputation. "For this reason the Bank of St. Lucia International has implemented strict compliance and anti-money laundering policies which address the application process," said Boodhoo.

The government of St. Lucia is the largest institutional shareholder of the East Caribbean Security Exchange with a 19.9% holding. Minister for International Financial Services, Honourable Dr. Kenny Anthony who delivered the feature address at the bank's opening, noted that St. Lucia's International Mutual Fund Act had been recognized and considered as a model by one of the island's established neighbouring competitors.

St. Lucia has established a Financial Intelligence Authority responsible for investigating suspicions of money laundering and terrorist financial activity.
