PRESS RELEASES

Public Support Needed for Successful Fire Service

THE public has been called upon to support the mission of the Saint Fire Service in providing quality service to the nation.

Addressing the nation on the occasion of the 30th Anniversary of the Saint Lucia Fire and Emergency Services, Tuesday September 14, 2004, Minister for Home Affairs and Internal Security Honourable Calixte George explained some of the ways in which public support could be useful. "Listen and adhere to the numerous fire protection tips given to you; refrain from engaging in false calls to the Fire Service; When giving information about a fire or other emergency, please answer the fireman's questions correctly for your answers are vital to an effective response; Desist from making abusive and insulting calls to 911; The corporate sector can assist the Fire Service immensely if your business implement the recommendations made for fire protection purposes. These recommendations are intended to protect you, the business investor; When an emergency vehicle is proceeding to the scene of an emergency, all motorists must pull to the left and stop."

Meanwhile with the growth and development of Saint Lucia, new and increasing demands are being made on the Fire Service. In fact a strategic plan was developed in 2000 which served to position the department to achieve its objectives. Minister George emphasised that government has responded positively to that plan and as a result Saint Lucians are already witnessing the results with the construction of new modern fire stations in a number of communities with other stations soon to come on stream.

"Before year end, we will see the commencement of the construction of the Micoud Fire Station, while plans are afoot to relocate the Fire Service Headquarters in Castries which will provide for a more modern facility. Government has already secured land near the Stadium in Vieux Fort for the construction of a modern Training school facility intended to serve the OECS Sub committee."

A number of fire service personnel are currently benefiting from government awards and are on training at universities overseas, qualifying in subject areas such as Fire Service Engineering, Fire Service Management and Mechanical Engineering. "Upon the return of these officers, we will be better equipped to meet the technological challenges currently facing us and we will have the technical capability to determine in quick time, the causes of fires. Presently three fire officers are studying overseas, specialising in fire cause determination."

St. Lucia signs US$3.65M Aid Agreement with China

THE Government of St. Lucia and the People's Republic of China on September 6th, 2004, signed an Agreement on Economic and Technical Cooperation. This was done with a view to further developing friendly relations and economic and technical cooperation between the two countries.

Saint Lucians Warned ... Hurricane Season is not Over

SAINT LUCIANS have been warned that the massive destruction caused by the passage of Hurricane Ivan to a number of Caribbean countries over the past week has many lessons to be learned. During his weekly "Conversations with the Nation" Prime Minister Honourable Dr. Kenny Anthony emphasised that the ravage caused in Grenada and Jamaica is a reminder of what could have happened to Saint Lucia.

Despite the evidence, Dr. Anthony said, some Saint Lucians are still taking hurricane and storm warnings lightly. The Prime Minister cautioned the nation never to be lulled into a false sense of security just because the island has been spared this time. "If like Jamaica or Grenada we had been hit by the hurricane, our story would have been much different. As was the case after Hurricane Allen in 1980, instead of counting galvanised sheets or banana trees, today we would be counting lost lives, destroyed homes and displaced people. Our emergency shelters would still be full. Our roads would have been blocked. There would have been no electricity, telephone or cell phone services. Hospitals would be damaged. Schools would be destroyed. Then – and only then – would we have seen the true test of our emergency services."

The official hurricane season runs from June to November and Saint Lucians have been urged to brace themselves as there are still a number of weather systems which can affect the island. "We may escape today but we may not tomorrow. It is Grenada's and Jamaica's turn today, but it could be ours tomorrow or the day after. It's never over until the season is over. Indeed, do not forget or ignore the fact that the official hurricane season ends on October 30, 2004 and even then, the next season begins in less than one year's time."

Cabinet Authorizes US $100,000 for Grenada Rehabilitation

The Cabinet of Ministers has today September 13th, 2004, authorized a donation of US $100,000 in assistance from the Government and People of St. Lucia for disaster-struck Grenada.

Prime Minister Dr Kenny D. Anthony says the money, which was approved at today's Cabinet Meeting, will be used "to purchase building materials and other supplies to assist the people of Grenada in their efforts to rebuild and rehabilitate their homes."

"Most of the supplies," the Prime Minister said, "will be purchased here for onward transmission to Grenada." Prime Minister Anthony visited Grenada Sunday (September 12) along with his Vincentian counterpart Prime Minister Dr Ralph Gonsalves.

While there, the two Prime Ministers met their Grenadian counterpart, Dr Keith Mitchell, with whom they held discussions. The leaders also made an aerial assessment of the damage done to the island by Hurricane Ivan. Prime Minister Anthony said on his return here that "the situation in Grenada is quite distressing".

He said the Grenadian people were "traumatized and devastated, but they also appear to be resilient and determined to try to put the pieces back together." Dr Anthony said he was "shocked" at the extent of the destruction caused by the Hurricane. From the air, he said, "galvanize and lumber could be seen strewn across the island for miles."

Prime Minister Anthony said the security situation on the island had improved "and things appear to be back to normal following widespread reports of looting." However," he added, "it will be a monumental task to rebuild Grenada."

Meanwhile, Prime Minister Roosevelt Skeritt of Dominica also paid a visit to Grenada over the weekend. The visit by the Dominica Prime Minister followed earlier visits last week by the Secretary General of Caricom, the Director General of the Organisation of Eastern Caribbean States (OECS) and the President of the Caribbean Development Bank (CDB).

China's city officials laud Governor-General's punctuality

OFFICIALS, city after city have praised Governor-General, Her Excellency Dame Pearlette Louisy for her punctuality, in meeting the busy schedule of visits to various meetings and site seeing tours, as the scheduled road closures and reopening to facilitate her entourage are met with great precision.

Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary of the People's Republic of China to St. Lucia, His Excellency Mr. Gu Huaming, who has been travelling with Her Excellency revealed that officials of the cities of Beijing, Xi'an, Shenzhen and Shanghai were very impressed with the Governor-General's punctuality for the schedule of meetings and visits.

"When a Head of State visits a city, we try to get to the venues and return on time. This means that the routes have to be closed and traffic stopped at all the appropriate intersections, much to the inconvenience of motorists. So, it is great when we can reopen the roads on time, which cannot be possible if there are delays brought about by late departures. In the case of the Governor-General, we have been able to do so with great precision, because she is always on time for departure. And there has been nothing but praise for her punctuality", said Ambassador Huaming.

At every stop, there has been a tight schedule of meetings with Provincial Government officials and visits to historical and cultural sites, starting from 8:30 a.m. and ending at 9:30 p.m. The programme involves much walking and signing of visitors' books.

In Xi'an, the Governor-General, among other landmark venues, visited the famous museum of Terracotta Warriors and horse pits, which appears regularly on the well-known Discovery channel. The museum comprises over 400 life-size statues of warriors and horses discovered buried with Qin Shihuang, who became the first Emperor of a unified Chin over 2000 years ago. It is thought that Emperor Qin believed the worriers would protect him in his next life. Famed as the eighth wonder of the world, some 100 Heads of State and over 3 million foreign visitors have visited the Museum of Terracotta Warriors since opening in 1978. The site is on the world heritage list.

Xi'an (pronounced as Shean), a famous tourist city covers 9,983 sq km and has a population of 7.1 million. It is the largest centre for logistics in the northern region and a base for national defence, scientific research, higher education, aerospace, and electronics industry.

In 2003, Shaanxi province, which houses Xi'an and 10 other cities, had an annual Gross Domestic Product (GDP) of approximately US$30 billion, representing an 11 per cent increase over 2002. The GDP per capita was US$789, which was up 11 per cent on 2002.

Saint Lucia's Governor-General becomes the 400th Head of State to visit the Great Wall of China

GOVERNOR-General of St. Lucia, Her Excellency Dame Pearlette Louisy on September 8th, 2004, became the 400th Head of State to visit the Great Wall of China. Her Excellency is also the fourth Government of St. Lucia official to visit the Great Wall, behind Prime Minister, Dr. Kenny D. Anthony and the late former Foreign Minister, George Odium in February, 1999; and Foreign Minister Julian Hunte in July, 2002.

The over-3,000 mile long wall was the greatest manmade military defence structure in ancient China. Its construction started during ancient spring and summer period and the warring stated period 770-211 B.C. At that time walls were built by some warring states to protect their own territories.

In 221 B.C., Qin Shihuang, who became the first Emperor of a unified China, linked the separate walls. From then, the Great Wall was continuously extended and repaired by subsequent dynasties. Most of the wall has deteriorated badly, with the best preserved wall at present being the one built in the Ming Dynasty between 1368 and 1644. This section of the wall is over 6,000 kilometres long.

At over seven meters high and five meters wide, the Great Wall has drawn much attention from the Chinese Government since becoming the People's Republic of China in 1949. It was designated a major historical site under state protection in 1961. And in 1987, the Great Wall was listed as a World Cultural Heritage by the United Nation Economic, Social, and Cultural Organisation (UNESCO).

The Great Wall at Badaling is preserved as a historical monument and has become one of the most popular tourist attractions in the world.

On the visit to the Great Wall, Her Excellency was accompanied by the Chinese Ministry of External Affairs, along with several security and medical personnel. Viewing the Great Wall with awe, the Governor-General wrote in the visitors' book, "...inspiring and breathtaking. I will always cherish this visit to the Great Wall, a symbol of peace, harmony and international goodwill".
