ProVention Sponsors Grants for Risk Reduction

IN December 2002, the ProVention Consortium, in collaboration with the World Bank awarded grants to 65 individuals and/or teams from 27 developing countries to encourage them to become more involved in disaster risk reduction. Fifteen of the projects presented were selected, and the team leaders for these projects presented their findings at the "Global Symposium for Hazard Risk Reduction" at the World Bank Headquarters. Encouraged by the success of the program, Provention is now teaming up with the Asian Disaster Preparedness Center, the Disaster Mitigation for Sustainable Livelihoods Programme at the University of Cape Town, and the Disaster Management Center at the University of Wisconsin to sponsor a second round of grants to support research on disaster risk management.

The Consortium is inviting young professionals (35 and under) from developing countries to submit proposals in the form of research projects, professional internships or professional development programs. They should focus on the links between disasters, development and the environment, and should fall into three general categories (i) risk identification and analysis, (ii) risk reduction, and (iii) risk sharing/transfer. Since the proposals are meant private sector investors/operators; (c) the preparation of a marketing strategy and the conduct of investor due diligence including a list of qualified private sector investors/operators; (d) the drafting of the relevant share sale and purchase contract documents underpinning the proposed transaction; (e) transaction execution including the conduct, if appropriate, of a prequalification exercise and a review of the capital structure and shareholders agreement; and (f) closing of the transaction (finalizing sale documentation to signing and share issue).

The Government of St. Lucia now invites eligible Consultants to indicate their interest in providing the services. Interested Consultants must provide information indicating that they are qualified to perform the services (brochures, description of similar assignments, experience in similar conditions, availability of appropriate skills among staff, etc.).

Consultants may associate to enhance their qualifications.

A Consultant will be selected in accordance with the procedures set out in the World Bank Guidelines: Selection and Employment of Consultants by World Bank Borrowers, May 2004.

Interested Consultants may obtain further information at the address below from 0830 hours to 1630 hours Monday to Friday.

Expressions of interest must be delivered to the address below by no later than May 13th 2005.

AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Directors of First Caribbean International Bank (Barbados) Limited

We have audited the accompanying balance sheet of the St. Lucia Branches of First Caribbean International Bank (Barbados) Limited (the "branches") as of October 31, 2004 and the related statements of income, changes in head office account and cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the branches' management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the branches as of October 31, 2004 and the results of their operations and their cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards.
